

When logged into your Google account, click on the blue person, and then click on “Account”.

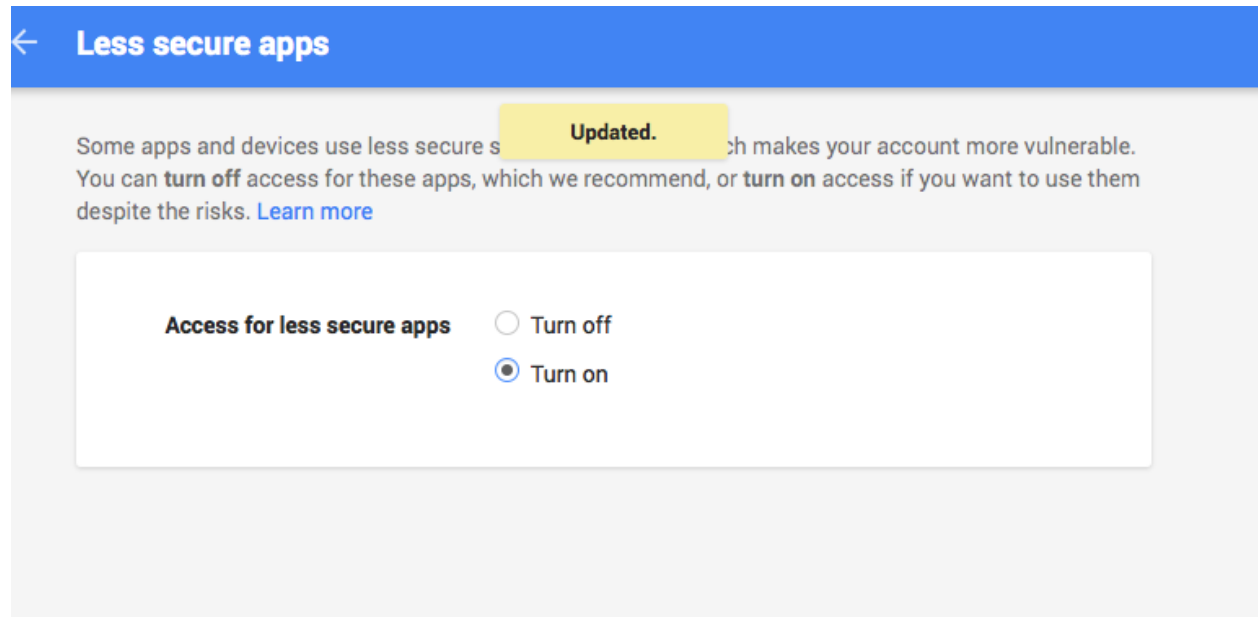

A screen should pop up with your account settings

Scroll down to “Signing in” and click on “Access for less secure apps”

Toggle the option to “Turn on”

You should now be able to use the Python script to access your email.